TRAINING TRACKING SOFTWARE

Track your training in

The Cloud

courseforce frees you to focus on training – not tracking

In today's marketplace, companies of all sizes recognize the value of training. Unfortunately, the costs involved in managing training initiatives can be prohibitive. Traditionally, HR managers and training administrators have been faced with two choices: spend valuable time tracking their training requirements with spreadsheets or other standardized systems, or spend significant sums of money on expensive, customized database training solutions.

Now there's a third option that can save both time and money – CourseForce Training Tracking Software. An on-line database application, designed specifically to help companies – big or small – manage their training requirements. And it's all available for one low monthly fee.

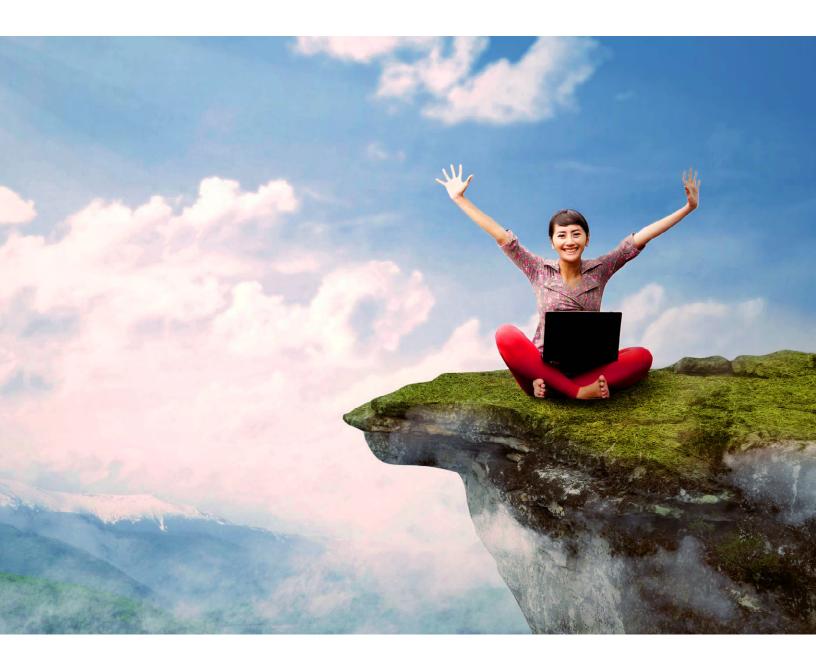

courseforce is everything you need – for everyone in your company

CourseForce puts all the tools you need to manage your training into one complete, cost-effective, easy-to-use package. CourseForce allows you to: keep track of what training is required, for whom and when; automatically notify employees of course sessions; manage lists of users and their access rights; email training reports directly from the application; and much more. Plus, CourseForce lets you set up different levels of access for different individuals within your company.

We host the application, you save on administration

CourseForce is an enterprise web application that uses the Cloud-based model. Simply stated, this means that we provide the application to your organization via the Internet. And since we handle the hosting, there's no need for you to support software or purchase additional hardware, and there are no maintenance costs.

Your information is accurate, up-to-date and always accessible

There's more to a cloud-based application than just cost savings. With CourseForce, your data is there for you anytime and anywhere you have an internet connection. That gives the people in your organization real-time access to the training information they need, so they can make informed decisions quickly and easily. And since everyone shares the same employee, resource and course information, you can rest assured that each user is supplied with the most accurate, up-to-date information available.

Best of all, courseforce is easy to use

The simple, intuitive interface means even novice computer users can quickly become CourseForce experts. All information is organized into straightforward lists accessible from the main menu, and all reports are accessed from a single report generator. And, should you need it, an online help feature is available at the touch of a button.

Your data is safe with courseforce

CourseForce utilizes Secure Socket Layer (SSL) technology to ensure that your information is secure. As an added safety measure, CourseForce requires that each user enter a company number, user name and password at login. This password is fully protected and is not stored on the user's computer. Once in the system, the user's access is restricted to the role they have been assigned.
